β2
A method and apparatus for distributing, generating, and redeeming discount Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup>, rebate or gift certificates or the like which may be used [on] in conjunction with a frequency card program ~~or the like~~. Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup> may be distributed electronically, for example, in the form of a diskette or CD-ROM software. ~~Software on the diskette or CD-ROM may prompt a consumer to call a 1-800 number for a validation number or code. During the phone call, telemarketing personnel may request consumer demographic and or identification information which may be entered into a centralized database.~~ Once the software is validated, a consumer may print out a list of selected Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup> displayed on a Graphical User Interface (GUI). When a product is purchased, the UPC code of the product may be compared electronically with a list of Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup> authorized for a particular consumer. An appropriate coupon discount may then be applied and the Virtual Coupon<sup>TM</sup> may be considered "redeemed". Once redeemed, consumer ID information and Virtual Coupon<sup>TM</sup> information may be retrieved electronically and used to update a central database. Accurate data may then be produced illustrating which consumers or groups of consumers are redeeming which Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup>. ~~Such data may be used for marketing purposes or to generate further diskettes for distribution targeting specific consumers or groups of consumers with specific classes of Virtual Coupon<sup>TM</sup> offerings. The use of Virtual Coupons<sup>TM</sup> eliminates or reduces fraud, and allows a frequency card discount to be applied only a limited number of times.~~
